Kids dive into reading

Memorial Library kicks off summer reading programs

Local Memorial Library kicked off its summer reading program on Friday, June 7, with a special event at the library. The program is designed to encourage children to read during the summer months. The library offers a variety of activities, including book clubs, story time, and reading challenges. The program is open to all children, regardless of their reading level. The library also offers a variety of books and materials for children to read. The program is a great way for children to spend their summer days and to improve their reading skills.

Brian Weber resigning later this month

City of Chicago Mayor Daley announced today that Brian Weber is resigning from his position as Deputy Mayor. Weber has been in the position since 2011. He will be leaving the city government later this month. The city will be looking for a replacement for Weber's position. Weber has a long history in the city government and has been a key member of Daley's administration.

WANTED: More day care facilities

There is a growing need for more day care facilities in the city of Chicago. The city government is currently looking for ways to increase the number of day care spots available to children. The city is currently facing a shortage of day care facilities, which is making it difficult for parents to find care for their children.
