

Cardinals of 2013 flying high

Tuesday, 21 May 2013 10:03

ABOVE: The Turpin High School Class of 2013 finishes off its tradition of throwing their caps in the air after commencement exercises and receiving their diplomas Saturday.

LEFT: Another tradition of the Turpin Cardinals is for graduating students to go into the grandstands among the crowd and pass out roses to loved ones or those the students greatly admire. L&T photos/Robert Pierce