

ABOVE: Cheyenne Holder smiles as she is crowned the 2013 Five-State Fair Queen Saturday evening by the Soroptimist Club at the fairgrounds prior to the opening night of the stock car races, which will conclude tonight with the fair champions being determined. Holder is very familiar with the fair queen duties, as she was involved with 4-H for years and always participated in the fair. For more photos of days two and three at the fair, see PAGE 4.

LEFT: 2013 Five-State Fair Queen Cheyenne Holder, left, and escort, Kevin Watson, along with queen candidate Alyssa Tatro and her father, Larry Martin, pose shortly after crowning Holder queen Saturday evening prior to the start of the stock car races. Sponsored by the Soroptimist Club, the two women raised more than $11,000, which will be used for scholarships in the Soroptimist programs. L&T photos/Chris Linenbroker