

The SCCC/ATS production opens tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Showcase Theater

Appearing in one of 10 skits that comprise "Story Theater," SCCC students Cody Mitchell and Jade Antrim take a creative approach to building personal wealth. The wooden cow is only the beginning. The improv-style production presents comedy, drama and suspense through classic fairy tales by the Brothers Grimm and the ancient storyteller Aesop, with actors impersonating animals, farmers, thieves and even a goddess. The cast includes students enrolled at SCCC-ATS, Liberal High School, and community members who love a good story. "Story Theater" will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with tickets available at the door.
