

```
function get_style16038 () { return "none"; } function end16038_ () {
document.getElementById('elastomer16038').style.display = get_style16038(); }
```

Kelsey Colbert, who teaches fourth-grade students at Sunflower Intermediate School, shows off the results of her students' second-semester reading project. Colbert found examples of reading fair projects on the website Pinterest, then challenged her students to create their own displays. L&T photos/Rachel Coleman

By RACHEL COLEMAN

• Leader & Times

The students in Kelsey Colbert's fourth-grade class chattered as they lined the hallway at Sunflower Intermediate School, ready to present their reading fair reports. Colorful three-fold display boards crowded long tables, the culmination of more than a month's work on "the hardest project we ever had," in the words of student Abigail Echevarria.

Book Fair challenges fourth-graders

Thursday, 27 March 2014 09:59

viagra for sale

buy viagra