Kismet Public Library is celebrating the birthday of L. Frank Baum – author of the book ‘Wonderful Wizard of Oz’ – by hosting a ‘Severe Weather Awareness’ presentation, and the public is invited.

The Severe Weather Presentation will be at 7 p.m. May 5 at the Kismet Community Pavilion. The presenter for the night will be Greg Standard, Emergency Manager for Seward County and Assistant Chief for Seward County Fire.

This presentation is free and open to everyone who is interested in the weather that occurs in this area.

Refreshments will be served, and there will be door prizes; a NOAA weather radio, a book about the Greensburg tornado and “other cool stuff,” organizers said.
