

Homes all across town are glowing with Christmas decorations and lights. This home is in north Liberal and includes a family of snowmen on the porch. Mild weather should allow lots of people to get out and see the decorations this year without fear of driving in snow or slush. L&T photo/Earl Watt