

The Bee Jays begin a seven-game homestand tonight and will face Dodge City at 7 p.m.

The stretch will be critical if the Bee Jays want to earn a ticket to the NBC World Series.

The Bee Jays will be playing for their post-season lives, and all the gas are free.

The sponsor of tonight's game is Madden Oil.

Friday, second-place El Dorado comes to Liberal, and the Bee Jays need to try to sweep the Broncos to keep their hopes of reaching the top three of the Jayhawk League alive.

Friday's game is sponsored by United Wireless.

Saturday's game is sponsored by the Bank of Beaver City.

Sunday, the Bee Jays will recognize the team's Most Valuable Player and the Bee Jay Supporter of the Year prior to the series finale with El Dorado.

The festivities begin at 6:45 p.m., and the game will be sponsored by National Beef. There will be free hot dogs, hamburgers and T-shirts, thanks to National Beef, as well as give-aways of meat, two bicycles and a grill.

All games have free admission.

Big weekend for Bee Jays baseball, major prizes

Thursday, 18 July 2013 09:45
