

College closes out semester with winter concert

Tuesday, 09 December 2008 00:00

Daily Leader photo/Robert Pierce

The Seward County Community College Saints Wind Ensemble performs one of several songs Friday evening during the college music department's annual winter concert. A performance was also given Thursday evening, and along with the ensemble, the Singing Saints Concert Choir and the Gentlemen's Club also performed at the event. Ticket sales from the concert went to benefit the SCCC Development Foundation Auction.

Watch the Daily Leader for more photos.