Commission split on leadership

Harrison chosen mayor on 92 vote, Denver declines vice-mayor nomination

By KERRY PERCY
DENVER POST

The city commission split 9-2 on Tuesday, choosing Mayor Steve Cook and a five-member council. The vote was the closest in the city's history, with Cook winning by a margin of one vote over the other candidates. The council members were also chosen in a close race, with Cook's allies securing five of the seven seats.

Trying to decrease wind erosion, maintain soil moisture

By KERRY PERCY
DENVER POST

Two local farmers are testing a new method of planting winter wheat to reduce wind erosion and maintain soil moisture. The farmers, Steve Cook and John Harrison, are using a technique called "strip-till" planting. This method involves planting wheat in rows without disturbing the soil between the rows. The goal is to reduce wind erosion and maintain soil moisture, which is crucial for wheat growth in the semi-arid region.

Rep. Huelskamp demands answers from Secretary Napolitano

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Louie Gohmert (R-Texas) on Tuesday demanded answers from Homeland Security Secretary Janet Napolitano regarding the agency's handling of the border security issue. Gohmert criticized the agency's performance and called for more aggressive action to secure the border.

Former Liberal residents receive Philanthropist of the Year award in OKC

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The annual award for philanthropy in Oklahoma City was presented to a group of former Liberal residents. The award, known as the Philanthropist of the Year, recognizes individuals who have made significant contributions to the community. The recipients were honored at a ceremony in Oklahoma City.
