LIBERAL BIDS FAREWELL TO DR. LANCE STOUT
The quilt that came home
Liberal nation remembers on local artifact

The women stitched each star by hand, piecing printed diamonds into an orderly geometric pattern. Starter quilts, anchored the differently-hued stars, were passed, some intense. Finally they added their names. Yet as all embroidered in color, it read on white cotton.

It was a quilt that had been passed down through generations, from mother to daughter, and now it was being passed on to the Liberal community.
