Kids dive into reading

Memorial Library kicks off summer reading programs

Local residents are excited about the summer reading programs that will be kicking off at the Memorial Library on Monday, June 10. The library is offering a variety of programs for children of all ages, including story time, book clubs, and more. The programs are designed to encourage children to read and enjoy books during the summer months. The library is located at 1234 Main St. in Chicago, IL. For more information, visit www.memoriallibrary.org.

Brian Weber resigning later this month

Chicago Police Officer Brian Weber has announced his resignation from the force. Weber has served the department for over 10 years and will be leaving in late June. He has expressed his gratitude for the support and training he received during his time with the police. Weber is currently on administrative leave. For more information, visit www.chicagopolice.org.

WANTED: More day care facilities

There is a growing need for more day care facilities in Chicago, particularly in the city's inner-city areas. Many parents are struggling to find affordable and quality care for their children. The city government is currently reviewing options to address this issue, including building new facilities and providing incentives for private providers. The goal is to ensure that all children have access to safe and educational day care. For more information, visit www.chicago.gov.
