Landfill fire lights up night sky

Several days after the fire broke out, the night sky over Lakewood, Colo., was lit up by a massive fire at a landfill. The fire, which started on June 18, is still burning and has caused significant damage to the surrounding area. The fire is believed to be the result of a gas leak from a pipe that had been damaged during a recent storm.

Boost for cars or bust? Ethanol debate heats up

The debate over whether to boost support for ethanol production or to restrict it has heated up. The U.S. House of Representatives is expected to vote on a bill that would increase the amount of ethanol that can be blended with gasoline. The bill is supported by the ethanol industry, but it has faced opposition from environmental groups and some members of Congress who are concerned about the impact of ethanol on the environment and the economy.
