Routine blood test saved baby's life

MCADD a silent killer for many

At the age of 4 months, Jackson County resident Landon Coleen Burt looks like the healthiest baby in the world. His parents, Colleen and Morgan Burt, look at their son, they know that only knows after his birth, he was a typical orange from death.

After his mother learned he had MCADD, she was able to start giving him the special diet. The diet is a combination of special formula and breast milk. The diet is a combination of special formula and breast milk. The diet is a combination of special formula and breast milk.

MCADD is a rare genetic disorder that affects the body's ability to break down certain fats. It is a silent killer for many children. The condition is often diagnosed through routine blood tests.
