Kan. court remands case of gun shop liability

By Mike Chism

The Kansas Supreme Court has remanded a case regarding the liability of a gun shop. The case involves a lawsuit filed by a family whose child was injured by a gun. The court ruled that the case should be remanded to the lower court for further proceedings. The court's decision is based on the fact that the lower court did not properly apply the law regarding the liability of gun shops.

Obama's remarks on race resonate with many

By Mike Chism

President Barack Obama's remarks on race during his speech at the White House on Monday have resonated with many Americans. Obama's words were seen as a powerful statement on the issue of race in America. Many people felt that Obama's remarks were a step in the right direction and that they provided a clear message about the importance of racial equality.
