Booth offers privacy, refreshment to nursing mothers
A new booth at the University of Kansas Medical Center's Women's Health Center provides nursing mothers with a private space to pump milk. The booth is located in the center's lobby and is equipped with a pump and a sink. The center's director of nursing, Dr. Susan M. Smith, says the booth is a "game-changer" for nursing mothers. The booth is available to all nursing mothers at the center, regardless of whether they are patients or visitors.
