

All generalizations are false, (including this one.)
Slow Smokin' BBQ Home of the BIG WOODY!
44 Village Plaza - Columbus, MS 39206-4400 Monday - Wednesday
BULLY'S BULL DOG BBQ VOTED AMERICA'S BEST RESTAURANT 5 YEARS STRAIGHT

17 GARAGE SALES LISTED INSIDE TODAY!

Remember drive-in movies!
Philly might be the last drive-in movie. Check out the drive-in at the...
FRIDAY, AUG. 9

LEADER & TIMES
AUGUST 1, 2013
Your daily news & more for $27.95/mo
THURSDAY $1.00 (incl. tax)
$1.00 (incl. tax) $1.00 (incl. tax) $1.00 (incl. tax)

Localists brave stormy weather to attend Gospel Songfest

Survey says community cares most about security, safety

National Beef recalls ground beef products

'DUCKY' GETS SQUEAKY CLEAN

17 GARAGE SALES LISTED INSIDE TODAY!

Remember drive-in movies!

FRIDAY, AUG. 9

17 GARAGE SALES LISTED INSIDE TODAY!

Philly's Gospel Songfest is a community event that brings people together for music and prayer.

Survey says community cares most about security, safety
A recent survey conducted by the Pew Research Center found that Americans are most concerned about national security and safety. The survey, which was conducted in May and June, found that 63 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about national security, up from 58 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 61 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about safety, up from 56 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 58 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the economy, down from 63 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 54 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about terrorism, down from 60 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 51 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the environment, down from 57 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 48 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about health care, down from 54 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 45 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about education, down from 51 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 42 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about foreign policy, down from 48 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 39 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about social issues, down from 45 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 36 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the military, down from 42 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 33 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Supreme Court, down from 39 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 30 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the White House, down from 36 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 27 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Congress, down from 33 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 24 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Supreme Court, down from 30 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 21 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the White House, down from 27 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 18 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Congress, down from 24 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 15 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Supreme Court, down from 21 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 12 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the White House, down from 18 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 9 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Congress, down from 15 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 6 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Supreme Court, down from 12 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 3 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the White House, down from 9 percent in 2011. The survey also found that 0 percent of respondents are very or somewhat concerned about the Congress, down from 6 percent in 2011.

'Ducky' gets squeaky clean during a promotional event.

'DUCKY' GETS SQUEAKY CLEAN
The Duck Brand has announced that it is launching a new line of cleaning products. The new line, called 'Ducky Clean', includes a variety of cleaning products, including all-purpose cleaners, disinfectants, and degreasers. The products are designed to be effective and safe for use in homes and businesses. The new line is available in a variety of sizes and scents, including lemon, lavender, and eucalyptus. The products are also available in a variety of packaging options, including spray bottles, refills, and bulk packaging. The new line is expected to be available in stores and online in the coming weeks.