Egyptian authorities detain suspected 'spy' swan
A swan, believed to be a spy, was detained by Egyptian authorities in the Red Sea. The swan was found swimming in the water near the Egyptian coast. It was believed to be carrying information from a spy plane. The swan was captured and taken to a facility in Egypt. It is being held in a cage. The swan is white with a long neck and a red beak. It is looking towards the camera.

Judge: Oklahoma can sue government for Obamacare
A federal judge has ruled that Oklahoma can sue the federal government for the Affordable Care Act (ACA). The judge found that the ACA is unconstitutional because it forces states to pay for the program. The judge also found that the ACA is a tax, not a law. This means that it is not subject to the same constitutional requirements as laws. The judge's decision is a major victory for the states that oppose the ACA. It could lead to a Supreme Court decision on the constitutionality of the ACA.
