Egyptian authorities detain suspected 'spy' swan

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egyptian authorities have detained a swan suspected of spying on the country's military base, according to a report from the state-run news agency. The swan was found near the base and was taken to a laboratory for testing. It was found to have a small electronic device attached to its back, which was used to transmit information to a satellite. The swan was released after the device was removed.

Judge: Oklahoma can sue government for Obamacare

Change: Yes

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that the state of Oklahoma can sue the federal government for the Affordable Care Act, also known as Obamacare. The judge, Judge David B. Senturia, ruled in favor of Oklahoma's lawsuit, which was filed in federal court in Oklahoma City. The lawsuit claims that the Affordable Care Act is unconstitutional and that the federal government is in violation of the state's sovereign immunity. The judge's ruling is a significant victory for Oklahoma and its supporters of the lawsuit.
