Parent questions why board not enforcing policy
By NICKI CLONING
COLUMBIANA
A local parent, Melissa Robinson, says she is questioning why the board of directors of the Columbia Area Public Schools is not enforcing its policy on the use of cell phones in the classroom. She says she has written the board several times and has been told that the board is not enforcing the policy because it is not a priority. She says she is disappointed because she believes that the board should be enforcing the policy to ensure that students are not distracted in the classroom.
