Parent questions why board not enforcing policy
By NICKI CLONING
COLUMBIANA
A parent of a child at the University of Missouri-Columbia is questioning why the board of trustees is not enforcing a policy that requires all students to be vaccinated against measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) before enrolling in college. The parent, who is a member of the board, says that the board has been aware of the policy for several years but has not taken any action to enforce it. The parent says that the board's inaction is putting the health of all students at risk.

Kan. Lt. gov.: New exchange not competitive enough
By KATHLEEN O'NEILL
WICHITA
The Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT) is not doing enough to make the new exchange program competitive enough to attract private investors, the state's lieutenant governor said today. Lt. Gov. Matt Denno said that the current exchange program is not providing enough incentives to private companies to build and operate toll roads. He said that the state needs to offer more incentives, such as tax breaks and land grants, to make the program more attractive.

Camera takes dramatic shot of eagle attack
By JESSICA L. HARRIS
WICHITA
A camera mounted on a tree in the Lawrence, Kan., area captured a dramatic moment on Sept. 25 as a bald eagle swooped down to attack a young deer. The camera, which was part of a project to study eagle behavior, recorded the attack in high definition. The eagle was seen landing on the deer's back and pecking at its neck. The deer was seen running away from the eagle, but the eagle continued to follow it. The camera captured the attack for several minutes before the eagle eventually flew away.

Youth football coaches face $200 fine for running up the score
By KATHLEEN O'NEILL
WICHITA
Youth football coaches in Lawrence, Kan., are being fined for running up the score during games. The Lawrence Police Department has issued citations to several coaches for allowing their players to continue playing after the game had ended. The citations are for a violation of the city's anti-hazing ordinance. The ordinance states that coaches are not allowed to allow their players to continue playing after the game has ended. The coaches are being fined $200 for each violation.
