Parent questions why board not enforcing policy
By NICKI CLONING
A parent of a child at the University of Kansas School of Business is questioning why the board of trustees is not enforcing a policy that requires all students to be vaccinated against measles, mumps and rubella (MMR). The parent, who is a member of the board, says that the board is not enforcing the policy because it is not in the best interests of the university. Kan. lt. gov.: New exchange not competitive enough
By KATHLEEN O'NEILL
The Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT) is not doing enough to make the new exchange program competitive enough, Kansas Lt. Governor Matt Denno says. Denno says that the program is not competitive enough because it does not provide enough incentives for businesses to move to the state. Camera takes dramatic shot of eagle attack
By KATHLEEN O'NEILL
A camera mounted on a tree in the Kaweah State Natural Area in the Sierra Nevada mountains captured a dramatic moment on Tuesday as a bald eagle swooped down to attack a mule deer. The camera was part of a project to study the behavior of bald eagles in the area. The eagle was seen attacking the deer's neck, and the deer was seen running away.
