Parent questions why board not enforcing policy
By NICKI CLONING
COLUMBIANA
A local parent, Melissa Robinson, says she is questioning why the board of directors of the Columbia Area Public Schools is not enforcing its policy on the use of cell phones in the classroom. She says she has received several calls from other parents who are also questioning the board's actions. Robinson says she has written the superintendent and the board of directors, but has not received a response. She says she is considering taking the issue to the state board of education.

Kan. Lt. gov.: New exchange not competitive enough
By KATHLEEN O'NEILL
WICHITA
The Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT) is not doing a good job of managing the state's transportation trust funds, Kansas Lt. Governor Matt Denno says. Denno says the state's transportation trust funds are not competitive enough to attract private investment. He says the state should consider other options, such as tolling roads or selling bonds, to raise money for transportation. Denno says he will continue to work with the transportation department to improve its management of the trust funds.

Camera takes dramatic shot of eagle attack
By JEFFREY M. HARRIS
WICHITA
A camera mounted on a tree in the Lawrence Eagle Rescue Center in Lawrence, Kan., captured a dramatic moment on Sept. 25. A golden eagle swooped down and attacked a young deer. The eagle grabbed the deer by the neck and began to pull it away. The deer was able to escape, but the eagle was not. The camera was mounted on a tree in the center of the rescue center. The eagle was captured on video and is being held in a cage. The deer is being treated for its injuries. The rescue center is a non-profit organization that rescues and rehabilitates injured birds of prey.

Youth football coaches face $200 fine for running up the score
By JEFFREY M. HARRIS
WICHITA
A group of youth football coaches in Lawrence, Kan., are facing a $200 fine for running up the score during a game. The coaches were fined for allowing their players to score multiple touchdowns in the fourth quarter of a game. The fine is part of a new rule that was implemented by the Lawrence Youth Football Association. The rule states that coaches are not allowed to allow their players to score more than two touchdowns in the fourth quarter of a game. The coaches who were fined were from the Lawrence Youth Football Association. The fine is the maximum amount that can be levied against a coach for this offense.
