'English only' applies to employees at health dept.
In CLARK COUNTY
Clark County Health Department employees are being told to speak only English on the job, a policy that has caused some controversy. The health department says the policy is necessary to ensure clear communication with patients and staff. However, some employees feel that the policy is discriminatory and that they should be allowed to speak their native language.

Reno Co. seeks to try teen as adult in fire case
The juvenile justice system in Reno County is seeking to try a 17-year-old teen as an adult in connection with a fire case. The teen is accused of setting a fire that caused significant damage to a property. The county prosecutor is arguing that the teen's actions were premeditated and that he should be held accountable as an adult.

Gov't reimburses man for 'mutt-lated' currency
A man has received reimbursement from the government for a 'mutt-lated' currency. The man had spent a significant amount of money on a currency that was later found to be counterfeit. The government has agreed to reimburse him for the amount he lost, as the currency was not recognized as legal tender.
