'English only' applies to employees at health dept.
In CLARK COUNTY
Clark County Health Department employees are being trained to use English only in the workplace. The health department is one of the first agencies in the county to implement this policy. The policy is part of a larger effort to improve communication and service for all residents. The health department is a large agency with many employees who speak different languages. The policy is being implemented to ensure that all employees can communicate effectively with each other and with the community. The policy is being implemented in a phased manner, starting with the health department. Reno Co. seeks to try teen as adult in fire case
The Reno County Board of Supervisors is considering a resolution to try a 17-year-old teen as an adult in a fire case. The teen is accused of setting a fire at a home in Reno County. The fire caused significant damage to the property. The Board of Supervisors is considering the resolution because the teen is a minor and the law requires that minors be tried in juvenile court.
