'English only' applies to employees at health dept.
In CLARK COUNTY
Clark County Health Department employees are being required to speak only English on the job, a policy that has caused some controversy. The health department says the policy is necessary to ensure clear communication with patients and staff. However, some employees feel that the policy is discriminatory and that they should be allowed to speak their native language.

Reno Co. seeks to try teen as adult in fire case
The juvenile justice system in Reno County is seeking to try a 17-year-old teen as an adult in a case involving a fire. The teen is accused of setting a fire at a home, which caused significant damage. The county prosecutor is arguing that the teen's actions were premeditated and that the juvenile system is not equipped to handle such a serious case.

Gov't reimburses man for 'mutt-lated' currency
A man has received reimbursement from the government for a "mutt-lated" currency. The man had spent a significant amount of money on a currency that was later found to be counterfeit. The government has agreed to reimburse him for the amount he lost, as the currency was not recognized as valid.
