

Thursday, October 10, 2013

Will gov't shutdown affect local residents?
By [Name] | [Date]

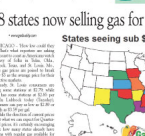

Will a government shutdown affect local residents? The answer is yes, but not in the way you might think. While federal employees would be furloughed, many state and local government workers would continue to work. However, some state services could be affected, such as public safety and social services. The impact would vary by state and local jurisdiction.

No injuries in Okla. pipeline blast
By [Name] | [Date]

A major pipeline explosion in Oklahoma on Wednesday resulted in no injuries and minimal property damage. The blast occurred in a rural area, and the cause is still under investigation. Firefighters worked for several hours to contain the fire.

City commission will allow public vote
By [Name] | [Date]

The city commission has approved a measure that will allow voters to decide on a key issue. This is a significant step in local governance, giving the community a direct say in the matter. The vote was held in a public hearing, and the results were closely watched.

LEADER & TIMES
Your daily news & more for $27

College scholarship auction raises $46,000
to be used to provide a college education to area students

Obama Administration denies Mass to Catholics
Religious liberty under attack

18 states now selling gas for less than $3 a gallon
States seeing sub $3/gal gas

Police arrest 8 House members at immigration rally
By [Name] | [Date]

Eight members of the U.S. House of Representatives were arrested during an immigration rally. The incident occurred in a public square, and the arrests were made by local police. The House members were charged with obstructing justice and other offenses. The rally was held to support immigration reform.

Local gas prices 28 cents higher than state ave.
By [Name] | [Date]

Gas prices in the local area are significantly higher than the state average. This is due to various factors, including higher taxes and increased demand. Consumers are paying an average of 28 cents more per gallon than the state average. This has led to complaints from drivers and businesses.