Mental health care suffers drought season
Cuts cause 'unnecessary suffering, raises risk of crisis'
BY NICHOLE COHEN
As the state's budget crisis deepens, mental health services are being cut across the board. The result is a "drought season" for mental health care, says a leading expert. "We're seeing a lot of people who are in crisis because of the cuts," says Dr. Robert M. Kaplan, a professor at the University of Pennsylvania. "It's a real crisis for a lot of people."

2 juveniles charged in Fla. after bullied 12-year-old girl's suicide
By JAMES WATSON
WELLS RICHES, Fla. — A 12-year-old girl's suicide in a small town in Florida has led to the arrest of two juveniles in another state. The girl, who was bullied, had been in the hospital for several weeks before her death. The police are looking for more information about the case.
