WASHINGTON — Secretary of Health and Human Services Kathleen Sebelius was grilled Tuesday by House Democrats over her handling of the rollout of the Affordable Care Act's health insurance exchange. Sebelius defended her agency's performance during a hearing in the House Health Committee. She said the exchange is up and running in 34 states, but she acknowledged that it is still a work in progress. She said she will continue to work with Congress to address the concerns of the public and the states.
