Sen. Moran sponsors bill to allow Kansans to keep their health care plans

Sen. Bill Moran, R-Kan., has introduced a bill that would allow Kansans to keep their health care plans if they are currently covered by a self-insured employer plan. The bill, known as the Health Care Continuation Act, would allow employers to continue to self-insure their employees' health care needs, even if the employees are no longer working for the employer. This would be a significant change, as currently, self-insured employers must convert their plans to a fully insured plan if the employees are no longer working for the employer.
