Philly officer delivers baby in back seat of taxi
A Philadelphia police officer delivered a baby in the back seat of a taxi. The officer, who was on duty in the city, was alerted to a woman in labor. He quickly called a taxi and drove to the location. The baby was born safely, and the mother and child were taken to a nearby hospital.

Many exchange health plans exclude top hospitals
A study has found that many exchange health plans exclude top hospitals. The study, conducted by the Kaiser Family Foundation, found that a significant number of exchange health plans do not cover care at some of the nation's top hospitals. This could limit the choices of consumers who are looking for high-quality care.
