Goals love Christmas trees

Holiday trash becomes treat
A group of volunteers from the local community are helping to clean up the area around the Christmas trees in the park. The trees are decorated with lights and ornaments, and the volunteers are working to make sure the area is clean and safe for everyone to enjoy.

Kansas says last part of Medicaid overhaul delayed

Gov. Sam Brownback says the state will delay the implementation of the final part of its Medicaid reform plan. The plan, which was passed by the legislature in 2012, aims to reduce the state's Medicaid spending by 10 percent over the next five years. The delay is due to concerns about the impact of the plan on low-income families and the need for more time to develop a replacement program.

Okla. tribal languages endangered

Native American languages in Oklahoma are facing a crisis of extinction. Only a few tribal languages are still spoken, and many are at risk of disappearing forever. The state's diverse cultural heritage is being lost, and efforts are being made to preserve and revitalize these languages. The Oklahoma State Language Center is working to document and teach these languages to younger generations.
