Judge believes local tax collector signed fraudulent tax returns
A judge has ruled that a local tax collector signed fraudulent tax returns for several years, according to a court decision. The judge found that the collector, who worked for the local government, had signed returns for several years that were clearly fraudulent. The judge's decision is a significant one, as it shows that the courts are willing to hold public officials accountable for their actions. The collector is now facing criminal charges for his actions.
