

What's the speed of dark?
Thursday Funtime
at Village Plaza & Library, 425-433-4100 • Monday - Saturday
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM • FREE ADMISSION • 10 TABLES AVAILABLE

Sign-ups for all Pancake Day races begin Saturday
Page 5

TALENT TIME
Finalists announced

MacArthur uses every scrap of space

Students at award-winning school nest in hallways, on stage

County chooses to support school bond issue as individuals
Page 3

LEADER & TIMES
TUESDAY FEBRUARY 4, 2014
Your daily news & views for 127 years

Snow expected all day

The National Weather Service has forecast snow for all of Tuesday and Wednesday, with totals of 4 to 6 inches.

Kansas man loses thousands in work-at-home scam

Cabin fever sets in amid relentless cold, snow

As the weather warms, and a respite from the winter weather is expected, many people are reporting cabin fever.

The Kansas State Police report that a man from Lawrence, Kan., lost thousands of dollars in a work-at-home scam. The man was contacted by a woman who offered him a job that required him to pay for training and materials. He paid for the training and materials, but never received the job. The woman then contacted him again, offering him a job that required him to pay for training and materials. He paid for the training and materials, but never received the job. The woman then contacted him again, offering him a job that required him to pay for training and materials. He paid for the training and materials, but never received the job.

The National Weather Service has forecast snow for all of Tuesday and Wednesday, with totals of 4 to 6 inches. The snow is expected to start in the morning and continue through the day. The snow is expected to be a mix of snow and sleet. The snow is expected to be a mix of snow and sleet. The snow is expected to be a mix of snow and sleet.

As the weather warms, and a respite from the winter weather is expected, many people are reporting cabin fever. Cabin fever is a common condition that occurs when people are confined to a small space for a long period of time. The symptoms of cabin fever include irritability, boredom, and a desire to leave the space. Cabin fever is a common condition that occurs when people are confined to a small space for a long period of time. The symptoms of cabin fever include irritability, boredom, and a desire to leave the space.