

When everything's coming your way, duck in the wrong direction and going the wrong way!
Slow Down! BIRD - BONES OF THE BIG WOODWAY!
A Village Plaza in Liberty, Ky. 42529-4600 - Monday - 2014/02/13
KOLC-TV 20/1000 HD HD 1000 AMERICA'S #1 FOX BROADCASTER & TV STATION

Bromlow wins Turpin School Board seat
By David H. Smith
Turpin School Board member David Bromlow has won a seat on the board, defeating incumbent David Smith in a runoff election. Bromlow, a resident of the Turpin neighborhood, was elected to a two-year term. He will be serving alongside other board members, including Mayor Tom Brumley and Councilman Tom Brumley. Bromlow's victory was a surprise, as Smith had been expected to win. Bromlow has a background in education and community service. He will be responsible for overseeing the school district's budget and operations. Bromlow's campaign was supported by local residents and community groups. He plans to continue to be active in the community and to work closely with the school board and other local officials. Bromlow's election is a testament to the support of the Turpin community. He will be serving the Turpin School District for the next two years. Bromlow's election is a testament to the support of the Turpin community. He will be serving the Turpin School District for the next two years.

Real-life code talk
Board will offer trade perspective on city ordinances
By David H. Smith
The City of Lexington is looking for a way to make its city ordinances more understandable to the public. The city is considering a "code talk" program that would allow city officials to explain the meaning of city ordinances in plain language. The program would be a pilot project that would be implemented in a few neighborhoods. The city is looking for feedback from the public on the program. The city is looking for feedback from the public on the program. The city is looking for feedback from the public on the program.

Offended by Cross?
Group wants N. Ky. sign removed to remove cross from top of building
By David H. Smith
A group of people in Northern Kentucky is asking the city to remove a cross from the top of a building. The group is the "No Cross on the Cross" group. They are asking the city to remove the cross because they believe it is offensive to people of other religions. The city is considering the request. The city is considering the request. The city is considering the request.

Arredondo to challenge Linenbroker for Dist. 2 seat
By David H. Smith
Alicia Arredondo is challenging Tom Linenbroker for the seat of District 2. Arredondo is a resident of the district and has been active in the community. She is running for the seat because she believes she can better represent the district. Linenbroker is the current incumbent. The election will be held in the next few months. Arredondo is running for the seat because she believes she can better represent the district. Linenbroker is the current incumbent. The election will be held in the next few months.

THURSDAY FEBRUARY 13, 2014
LEADER & TIMES
Your daily news & more for $27.50/yr

Sinkhole swallows cars at Corvette Museum in Ky.
By David H. Smith
A sinkhole opened up at the Corvette Museum in Bowling Green, Ky., on Tuesday, swallowing two cars. The sinkhole was about 10 feet deep and 10 feet wide. The cars were a 1967 Chevrolet and a 1968 Chevrolet. The sinkhole was caused by a collapse of the ground. The sinkhole was caused by a collapse of the ground. The sinkhole was caused by a collapse of the ground.

Campaign ad distances vulnerable Dem from 'disastrous' ObamaCare rollout
By David H. Smith
A campaign ad for a Democratic candidate in Kentucky is attacking the ObamaCare rollout. The ad says that the rollout was "disastrous" and that the candidate is not responsible for it. The ad is part of a campaign to elect the candidate to the Kentucky State House. The ad is part of a campaign to elect the candidate to the Kentucky State House. The ad is part of a campaign to elect the candidate to the Kentucky State House.

Happy Birthday Gerald Ford!
Liberty, Kentucky