Sinkhole swallows cars at Corvette Museum in Ky.
By David Hays
A sinkhole at the Corvette Museum in Bowling Green, Ky., has swallowed two cars and a portion of the building's roof. The sinkhole, which is about 10 feet deep and 20 feet wide, was discovered on Feb. 11. The cars, a 1967 Chevrolet and a 1968 Chevrolet, were parked in a parking lot next to the museum. The sinkhole was caused by a collapse of the ground beneath the cars. The museum is a major attraction in Bowling Green, and the sinkhole has caused significant damage to the building and the cars. Campaign ad distances vulnerable Dem from 'disastrous' ObamaCare rollout
By David Hays
A campaign advertisement for a Democratic candidate in a Kentucky congressional race has accused the Obama administration of a "disastrous" rollout of the Affordable Care Act. The ad, which aired on Feb. 10, features a candidate who is a member of the Democratic Party. The ad claims that the Obama administration has failed to properly implement the law, leading to confusion and frustration among voters. The candidate is running for the U.S. House of Representatives in the 2014 election. The ad is part of a larger campaign strategy to distance the candidate from the Obama administration's policies.
