

When you don't know what you are doing, do it neatly.
Comments: Watch Major Sports Games with High-Speed Sports Night
and Watch Major Sports Games with High-Speed Sports Night
and Watch Major Sports Games with High-Speed Sports Night

Whereas the huge piece of equipment headed Saturday after it made its way through Liberia! Page 4A

County to get update on prairie chicken listing
By the Staff
The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) is expected to announce whether the prairie chicken should be listed as an endangered species. The USFWS is currently reviewing the status of the prairie chicken, a bird that is native to the central and southern United States. The prairie chicken is a ground-dwelling bird that is known for its distinctive call, which sounds like a series of "chicken" sounds. The prairie chicken is currently listed as a "candidate" for listing as an endangered species. The USFWS is expected to announce its decision on whether to list the prairie chicken as an endangered species in the next few months.

LEADER & TIMES

Your daily news source for 127 years

Setting on a good AirFair

LA workers break record for largest concrete pour
By the Staff
Construction workers in Los Angeles have set a new record for the largest concrete pour in the city's history. The record was set during the construction of a new building in downtown Los Angeles. The workers poured a massive amount of concrete in a single day, breaking the previous record. The new record is a testament to the skill and hard work of the construction workers in Los Angeles. The record was set during the construction of a new building in downtown Los Angeles. The workers poured a massive amount of concrete in a single day, breaking the previous record. The new record is a testament to the skill and hard work of the construction workers in Los Angeles.

No global warming for 17 years 3 months — a Monckton Analysis
By the Staff
A new analysis by a climate scientist suggests that there will be no global warming for 17 years, 3 months, and 3 days. The analysis is based on a model that takes into account the latest data on climate change. The scientist, James Hansen, is a leading expert on climate change. His analysis suggests that the current rate of global warming is slowing down, and that it may take several decades before global warming becomes a significant problem. This news is a relief for many people who are concerned about the effects of climate change.

John Kerry mocks those who deny climate change
By the Staff
U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry has mocked those who deny the existence of climate change. In a speech to the United Nations, Kerry said that climate change is a real and urgent problem that requires global cooperation. He said that those who deny climate change are not only ignoring the science, but also putting the lives of future generations at risk. Kerry's speech was a clear message that the United States is committed to addressing climate change and that it will not be deterred by those who deny its existence.

Endangered person advisory for teenage Mo. girl
By the Staff
A teenage girl in Missouri has been named as an endangered person. The girl, who is 17 years old, has been identified as a potential victim of human trafficking. The Missouri Department of Social Services has issued an advisory for the girl's name. The advisory is a warning to the public that the girl is at risk of being exploited and that anyone who has information about her should contact the authorities. The girl's name is being withheld to protect her identity and safety.

Happy Birthday Ben Worland
Liberia, Missouri