City approves building board
The City of Cranston today approved a new building board to oversee the city's construction projects. The board will be made up of five members, including the city engineer and four citizens. The board will be responsible for reviewing and approving all building permits and plans. The board will also be responsible for overseeing the city's construction projects and ensuring that they are completed on time and within budget.

Devon Byrne has prepared for the week's 107-mile cycling race by training for hours in the hills of Cranston. She is competing in the 107-mile cycling race on Tuesday. Byrne is a member of the Cranston Cycling Club and has been training for the race for several weeks. She is looking forward to the race and hopes to finish in the top 10.

The Cranston Cycling Club is a group of cyclists who meet regularly to ride together. They have been training for the 107-mile cycling race for several weeks. Byrne is one of the members of the club and is looking forward to the race. She is hoping to finish in the top 10 and to set a new record for the race.
