

City to expand bus service

KDOT grant allows adding 3 new buses

By Staff Writer
The city of Overland Park is set to expand its bus service with the addition of three new buses, thanks to a grant from the Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT). The grant, valued at $150,000, will allow the city to purchase three new buses to replace its aging fleet. The new buses are expected to arrive in the summer of 2014.

Not a sure thing

Kansas Supreme Court ruling could bring more money to USD 480 — maybe

By Staff Writer
A ruling by the Kansas Supreme Court could bring more money to USD 480, but it's not a sure thing. The court is currently reviewing a case that could affect the district's revenue. The outcome will depend on the court's interpretation of the law.

Calif. beef recall may affect area stores

By Staff Writer
A recall of beef products in California may affect area stores. The recall is due to concerns about the safety of the meat. Consumers are advised to check the labels of their beef products and to return any recalled items to the store.

Brownback touts policies on education, record state revenues in case for re-election

By Staff Writer
Gov. Sam Brownback is touting his policies on education and record state revenues in his campaign for re-election. He claims that his administration has made significant progress in these areas.

Bright Futures supports bond

By Staff Writer
The Bright Futures program supports a bond issue. The bond is intended to fund various educational and social services.

Gov. Sam Brownback is touting his policies on education and record state revenues in his campaign for re-election. He claims that his administration has made significant progress in these areas.

ObamaCare Band-Aid? Millions potentially exempted from individual mandate through 2016

By Staff Writer
A new report suggests that millions of people could be exempted from the individual mandate of the Affordable Care Act through 2016. This would effectively create a 'band-aid' for the law.

Public meeting to discuss bond March 20

By Staff Writer
A public meeting will be held on March 20 to discuss a proposed bond issue. The meeting is open to all residents and will provide an opportunity for community input.

ObamaCare Band-Aid? Millions potentially exempted from individual mandate through 2016

By Staff Writer
A new report suggests that millions of people could be exempted from the individual mandate of the Affordable Care Act through 2016. This would effectively create a 'band-aid' for the law.