

Wash. police chief's dog brings home human skull
A dog named "Coco" brought home a human skull from a crime scene in Washington state. The dog was found by police and the skull was identified as belonging to a victim of a murder. The dog's owner, a police officer, was praised for his quick thinking.

Arbor Day planting
A group of volunteers participated in an Arbor Day planting event, where they planted several trees in a park. The event was organized by a local environmental group and was a success.

County GOP meeting to find Reid's replacement
The Republican Party in Douglas County is holding a meeting to select a replacement for a retiring member. The meeting will be held in a local community center.

College presents spring concert
A local college is presenting a spring concert featuring several talented students. The concert will be held in a large auditorium and will feature a variety of musical styles.

Board members aim for more positive relationships
A board of directors is working to improve relationships with the community. The board members are focused on transparency and communication.

Government Days
A series of events called "Government Days" will be held in a local town. The events will provide an opportunity for citizens to interact with government officials.

Kansas Sampler Festival celebrating 25 years
The Kansas Sampler Festival is celebrating its 25th anniversary. The festival will feature a variety of musical acts and activities.

Douglas County OKs program for farmers market
Douglas County has approved a program for a new farmers market. The market will provide a place for local farmers to sell their produce.

Topeka man pleads guilty to 2013 homicide
A man from Topeka has pleaded guilty to a homicide that occurred in 2013. The man was charged with the murder of a local resident.

Oklahoma court rejects death-row inmates' claims
An Oklahoma court has rejected the claims of several death-row inmates. The court ruled that the inmates' claims were not valid.