2 men drop their federal lawsuit over Kansas voter ID law

LEADERSHIP
Two men have dropped their federal lawsuit challenging the state's voter ID law. The lawsuit was filed in federal court in Kansas City. The men are seeking to have the law declared unconstitutional. The state's attorney general has argued that the law is constitutional and that the men's lawsuit is frivolous.
