Tornado shelters face dilemma with pet lovers

LEADERSHIP
By Tom Ichniowski

It's a dilemma that's been plaguing many pet owners in the wake of the devastating tornadoes that struck the Midwest last week. As many pet owners as possible are being urged to evacuate their homes, but many are reluctant to leave their furry friends behind. The dilemma is especially acute for those who live in areas that are prone to tornadoes, such as the Midwest. 2 men drop their federal lawsuit over Kansas voter ID law

LEADERSHIP
By Tom Ichniowski

Two men have dropped their federal lawsuit challenging the new voter ID law in Kansas. The lawsuit was filed in federal court in Kansas City, Mo., in January. The men, who are both attorneys, had argued that the law violated the U.S. Constitution. However, they have now decided to drop the lawsuit.
