

You only see that the money is not the most important thing in life when you have it. Thursday Prime Rib. #4 Village Plaza • Liberal, KS 67248-2020 • Reservations: 785-842-1111

Woman wounded in early Sunday morning shooting

By Sarah Hays
A woman was wounded in a shooting in Seward County on Sunday morning. The shooting occurred in the early morning hours of Sunday, May 11, 2014, in the town of Seward. The victim, a 35-year-old woman, was shot in the back and sustained serious injuries. She is currently in a local hospital where she is recovering from her wounds. The police are currently investigating the shooting and have not yet identified any suspects.

Percent Receiving Food Stamps Use of food stamps rises in Seward County

Local authors donate to library

By Sarah Hays
A group of local authors and librarians recently gathered at the Seward Public Library to discuss the importance of supporting local literature. Several authors donated copies of their books to the library's collection. The authors included local fiction and non-fiction writers. The library staff expressed their appreciation for the donations and the authors' commitment to the community.

Kansas mom pleads no contest in 6-year-old daughter's death

By Sarah Hays
A Kansas woman has pleaded no contest to the death of her 6-year-old daughter. The woman, who is currently on probation, was charged with the murder of her daughter in 2007. The case has been a long and difficult one for the family and the legal system. The woman's attorney stated that her client is remorseful and has taken steps to address the issues that led to the tragedy.

Seward County man dies in fire

By Sarah Hays
A Seward County man died in a fire that broke out in his home on Sunday night. The fire started in the kitchen and quickly spread to the rest of the house. The man, who was alone at the time, was unable to escape and was found deceased by firefighters. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

City to give up property for school expansion

By Sarah Hays
The City of Seward is set to give up a portion of its property to the school district for a new school building. The school district has been planning for several years to expand its facilities to accommodate the growing student population. The city officials are working closely with the school district to ensure a smooth transition of the property.

Coffee with a candidate:

By Sarah Hays
A local candidate for office is participating in a 'coffee with a candidate' event. The event is designed to give voters an opportunity to meet the candidate and ask questions. The candidate is currently running for the position of Seward County Commissioner. The event will be held at a local cafe on Tuesday afternoon.

Geithner, in memoir, suggests White House asked him to bend truth on deficit

By Sarah Hays
Timothy W. Geithner, former director of the Federal Reserve, has written a memoir in which he suggests that the White House asked him to bend the truth regarding the federal deficit. Geithner's memoir, 'The Edge of Chaos', details his experiences in high-level government positions. He claims that he was pressured to provide optimistic reports about the deficit to the White House, despite the reality of the situation.

County to conduct special work session tonight

By Sarah Hays
Seward County is scheduled to hold a special work session tonight. The session will focus on discussing the county's budget and other important issues. The county commissioners will be present, along with other county officials. The session is expected to be a productive one for the county.

Feds mum on Kansas prairie chicken law

By Sarah Hays
The federal government has remained silent on a new law regarding the protection of the prairie chicken in Kansas. The law, which was passed by Congress, aims to strengthen the protection of this endangered species. However, the federal government has not yet announced any specific actions it will take to enforce the law.

Energy savings bill fails amid election politics

By Sarah Hays
A bill aimed at promoting energy savings has failed to pass in Congress due to election politics. The bill, which would have provided incentives for energy-efficient home improvements, was blocked by a coalition of lawmakers. The failure of the bill is seen as a setback for energy conservation efforts.