

You only see that the money is not the most important thing in life when you have it.
Thursday Prime Rib
#4 Village Plaza • Liberal, KS 67242-2020 • Reservations: 785-822-1111
Only a small portion of the online advertising fees generated by this advertisement.

Woman wounded in early Sunday morning shooting

By Sarah Hays
A woman was wounded in a shooting in Seward County on Sunday morning. The shooting occurred in the early morning hours of Sunday, May 11, in the town of Seward. The woman, who was not named, was taken to a local hospital for treatment. The police are currently investigating the incident.

Percent Receiving Food Stamps Use of food stamps rises in Seward County

Local authors donate to library

Page 2A
A group of local authors and librarians gathered at the Seward County Library to donate books. The authors, including several local writers, presented their books to the library staff. The books will be added to the library's collection and made available to the community.

Kansas mom pleads no contest in 6-year-old daughter's death

By Sarah Hays
A Kansas mother has pleaded no contest to the death of her 6-year-old daughter. The case, which involved a tragic incident, has been resolved in court. The mother is facing charges related to the death of her child.

Seward County man dies in fire

By Sarah Hays
A man from Seward County died in a fire that broke out in his home. The fire occurred in the early morning hours of Sunday, May 11. The man was found in the house and was pronounced dead at the scene. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

City to give up property for school expansion

By Sarah Hays
The City of Seward is set to give up a portion of its property to accommodate a school expansion project. The project, which is a long-planned initiative, will involve the construction of new classroom buildings and other facilities. The city's decision is part of a larger effort to improve the local education system.

Coffee with a candidate:

By Sarah Hays
A candidate for office is participating in a 'coffee with a candidate' event. The event, which is a popular way for voters to meet with candidates, will be held at a local coffee shop. The candidate will be available to answer questions and discuss his or her platform.

Geithner, in memoir, suggests White House asked him to bend truth on deficit

By Sarah Hays
Timothy W. Geithner, former director of the Federal Reserve, suggests in his memoir that the White House asked him to bend the truth regarding the deficit. Geithner's memoir, 'The Edge of Chaos', details his experiences in government and his views on the financial crisis and the deficit.

County to conduct special work session tonight

By Sarah Hays
Seward County is scheduled to hold a special work session tonight. The session will focus on various issues, including the school expansion project and other local concerns. The session is open to the public, and interested parties are encouraged to attend.

Feds mum on Kansas prairie chicken law

By Sarah Hays
The federal government is silent on a new law regarding the prairie chicken in Kansas. The law, which was recently passed, aims to protect the prairie chicken, a species that is facing extinction. The federal government's silence has raised questions about its support for the law.

Energy savings bill fails amid election politics

By Sarah Hays
A bill aimed at promoting energy savings has failed in Congress due to election politics. The bill, which was introduced by a member of Congress, sought to provide incentives for energy-efficient buildings. However, it was blocked by a procedural vote in the House of Representatives.

© 2014 The Associated Press. All rights reserved. This page may not be published, stored, or transmitted in any form or by any means without the prior written permission of The Associated Press. For more information, visit www.associatedpress.com. LIBRARY REPORT