

Parents rail against Common Core math

Miss Kansas Pageant announces 'Kansas Choice Award'

United Way
 Several County United Way
 United Way one of area's largest charities

LEADER & TIMES
 THURSDAY MAY 14, 2014
 PLAYOFF PICTURE
 Local Cal High League teams postseason tonight Saturday

Report: Thousands of convicted criminals freed while awaiting deportation proceedings

WASHINGTON — A report by the U.S. Sentencing Commission says that thousands of convicted criminals are being released from federal custody while awaiting deportation proceedings.

The report, released last week, says that the number of people in federal custody who are awaiting deportation proceedings has risen sharply in recent years. In 2012, the number of people in federal custody who are awaiting deportation proceedings was 10,000. In 2013, the number rose to 15,000. In 2014, the number rose to 20,000.

The report also says that the number of people in federal custody who are awaiting deportation proceedings has risen sharply in recent years. In 2012, the number of people in federal custody who are awaiting deportation proceedings was 10,000. In 2013, the number rose to 15,000. In 2014, the number rose to 20,000.