'Love thy neighbor?' Nuns sue nearby strip club
The nuns of the Holy Family convent in Liberal, Kan., have filed a lawsuit against a nearby strip club, alleging that the club's operations are causing a nuisance to the convent. The lawsuit was filed in the federal court in Liberal, Kan. The nuns allege that the club's operations, including late-night hours and loud music, are causing a significant disturbance to the convent. The convent is located on a residential street, and the strip club is located just across the street. The nuns are seeking an injunction to force the club to close and damages for the nuisance. The club's owners have denied the allegations and have filed a motion to dismiss the lawsuit. The case is currently pending in court.

City's chip seal program starts Tuesday
The City of Liberal is starting its chip seal program on Tuesday, June 18, 2014. The program is a maintenance project that involves applying a layer of crushed stone and sealant to the city's streets. The program is expected to last through the end of the month. The city is providing a list of the streets that will be sealed. The city is asking residents to avoid driving on the streets during the program.
