Obama challenged to act swiftly on immigration

By Bill Brown
Special to the Leader & Times

Immigration reform is a top priority for President Barack Obama, but he faces a challenge to act swiftly on the issue. The President has promised to act on immigration reform by the end of the year, but he has not yet done so. This has led to criticism from both sides of the aisle. Some argue that the President is not doing enough to address the issue, while others argue that he is moving too quickly.
