Voters: Watch for 'phony' Vote Fred Patton
By David H. Johnson
As voters head to the polls on Tuesday, they should be on the lookout for phony pro-life cards that look like they were printed by the state's Republican Party. The cards, which feature a picture of Fred Patton, are being distributed by a group of people who claim to be affiliated with the party but are not. The cards are being distributed in a number of areas, including in the Louisville area. The cards are being distributed by a group of people who claim to be affiliated with the party but are not.
