

GRAND BUFFET Lunch Buffet $6.99 Dinner Buffet $9.99
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 2014
LEADER & TIMES
Your daily news & views for 128 years

Little World's Fair in Kismet starts Saturday
By Bob White
The annual Little World's Fair in Kismet will get going on the 28th day of 2014. The fair is a celebration of the town's history and a chance for residents to enjoy a day of fun and games. The fair will feature a variety of activities, including a parade, a horse show, and a fireworks display. The fair is free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.kismetfair.com.

2015 Budget $36.1 million
2015 Mill levy $1.646
The Kismet City Commission has approved a 2015 budget of $36.1 million and a mill levy of $1.646. The budget includes funding for various city services, including police, fire, and public works. The mill levy is a tax on property value that is used to fund city operations. The commission also approved a resolution to support the city's bid for a new fire station.

Former tech director of Lenexa charged with wire fraud, theft
A former technology director at Lenexa has been charged with wire fraud and theft. The man, whose name has not been disclosed, is accused of stealing sensitive information from the company and using it to defraud other businesses. The charges were filed in federal court in Kansas City. The man is currently on bond and is being held in custody.

1 voter cast ballot under Kansas dual system
A voter in Kansas has become the first person to cast a ballot under the state's new dual system for voting. The man, whose name has not been disclosed, used a combination of a paper ballot and an electronic device to cast his vote. The new system is designed to make voting more secure and efficient. It allows voters to cast their ballots in person or by mail, and to use a variety of devices to do so. The system is being tested in several counties across the state.

Soroptimists say thanks to Brianna Headrick
A group of soroptimists has expressed their gratitude to Brianna Headrick for her leadership and dedication to the organization. Headrick has served as the president of the local soroptimist chapter for several years and has been instrumental in many of the group's successful projects. The group has been able to raise significant funds for various charitable causes, and Headrick's efforts have been a key factor in their success. The group plans to hold a special event to honor Headrick and her contributions to the organization.

Crested Butte to be Bud Light's 'Whatever' town
Crested Butte, Colorado, is set to become the "Whatever" town for Bud Light. The town has been chosen as the location for a new Bud Light "Whatever" store, which is expected to open in the near future. The store is part of Bud Light's "Whatever" campaign, which encourages people to "do whatever you want" and to live life on their own terms. The town of Crested Butte is a popular destination for outdoor recreation and is known for its scenic views and friendly atmosphere. The new store is expected to be a popular addition to the town's offerings.

1 voter cast ballot under Kansas dual system
A voter in Kansas has become the first person to cast a ballot under the state's new dual system for voting. The man, whose name has not been disclosed, used a combination of a paper ballot and an electronic device to cast his vote. The new system is designed to make voting more secure and efficient. It allows voters to cast their ballots in person or by mail, and to use a variety of devices to do so. The system is being tested in several counties across the state.

Soroptimists say thanks to Brianna Headrick
A group of soroptimists has expressed their gratitude to Brianna Headrick for her leadership and dedication to the organization. Headrick has served as the president of the local soroptimist chapter for several years and has been instrumental in many of the group's successful projects. The group has been able to raise significant funds for various charitable causes, and Headrick's efforts have been a key factor in their success. The group plans to hold a special event to honor Headrick and her contributions to the organization.

Crested Butte to be Bud Light's 'Whatever' town
Crested Butte, Colorado, is set to become the "Whatever" town for Bud Light. The town has been chosen as the location for a new Bud Light "Whatever" store, which is expected to open in the near future. The store is part of Bud Light's "Whatever" campaign, which encourages people to "do whatever you want" and to live life on their own terms. The town of Crested Butte is a popular destination for outdoor recreation and is known for its scenic views and friendly atmosphere. The new store is expected to be a popular addition to the town's offerings.